Letter of Recommendation

University Institute of Technology, Rajiv Gandhi Proudyogiki Vishva Vidyalaya Bhopal Madhya Pradesh India, is one of the best Institutes in Madhya Pradesh with a base of More than 5000 students. This institute offers Graduate and Post Graduate degrees in eight discipline namely Civil, Mechanical, Electronics & Communication, Electrical & Electronics, Computer Science, Information Technology, Automobile Engg & Petrochemical Engg. Compromises are not done in hiring the brightest minds which are quantitatively, analytically, and intellectually equipped. I have known [redacted] for the last six years as my one of the undergraduate students. taught him many subjects like, Engineering Thermodynamics, Thermal engineering & Gas dynamics, Heat & Mass Transfer & Refrigeration & Air Conditioning also guided him in one of his Project.

Team spirit is one quality that gives him an edge over others and makes him stand out. Routine work apart, events like Annual Function, symposium etc require additional efforts for a coordinated response. His uncanny ability to do sound analysis even in complicated situations has been proved in many incidents. Two things I especially liked about his work - his ability to visualize and understand complete range of issues and to motivate other students for adopting the changes. When college management decided compulsion of at least seventy five percent attendance in the classes as one of the eligibility condition for appearing in end semester examination, which the students were not ready to accept so he convinced them to accept it. Since the whole exercise also involved improvements in many basic systems of the department it required a special knack for managing these changes, which I think he demonstrated very well. In fact he is a very good sole performer too. He has the ability to think of various alternate ways and means to achieve the desired end.

His innovative nature makes him look for improvements in everything. The only weakness I have observed in him is that he sometimes gets carried away in enthusiasm and thus some sort of essential guidance to convert his weakness into his strength.

Last but not the least, in spite of him being so talented he responds positively to criticism. I feel this trait is very important if one has to move quickly on the learning curve. He is well natured, balanced and his wit would never let you pass him by without a smile. I strongly recommend him for admission in your organization.

Letter of Recommendation

[redacted] This is pleasure to write my comments on the academic skills & other abilities of my student Mr. [redacted] a Professor of Mechanical Engineering. I taught Naresh class of 60 students Engineering Drawing and Internal Combustion Engines. He did very well and secured a decent position in his class of 60 students.

I have found him to be an intelligent, diligent and a motivated student. He is responsive and hard working and his answers in class program are lucid, to the point and demonstrate a deep understanding of the subject.

Naresh has been consistent in his academic performance. His performance reflects his intelligence, study habits and command over his subjects. He is very hard working in his quest for his personal and academic growth.

Naresh has the passion to work on any idea, project so as to complete it with perfection. He is ardent and works assiduously on the tasks assigned to him. Open to ideas and suggestions, he handles difficult situations with confidence and a calm and open mind.

Naresh has also done presentations and given seminars such as "Lean Manufacturing" and "Role of CSR in industry". His content showed that he is well informed about the latest research. His presentations demonstrate his creativity & ability to express ideas clearly. He has excellent communication skills & good command over written & spoken English.

As a person, Naresh is enterprising, meticulous and systematic in his work. He is pragmatic and down to earth. Very helpful and polite, he enjoys good reputation among professors and students alike. In my opinion he has potential for a career in research. His depth of knowledge has given him enough confidence and I am sure he will definitely do well in the graduate program.

Naresh is recognized as an all-rounder. He not only worked for his good academic results but also performed well in his extracurricular activities as a leader or as a participant.

Apart from sports and academics, he also led the fundraising team of a society that he helped set up. The society is responsible for conducting various social and cultural events for the betterment of underprivileged kids. He has also written excellent articles for our college magazine which demonstrated his excellent command over language.

I consider Naresh amongst the bright students. With the assurance and confidence that Naresh will do very well in his future life, I strongly recommend him for PhD program in Mechanical Engineering. I am sure that he will fully justify the confidence and responsibility bestowed on him and will be able to meet the demands of any rigorous research based program.

State of Purpose

Applicant: Mechanical Engineering

STATEMENT OF PURPOSE

My Background:

Currently I am Asst. Prof. on contract in UIT RGPV Bhopal from 08/08/2016 ongoing. I completed my Undergraduate degree (B.E.) at University Institute of Technology, Rajiv Gandhi Pradyogiki Vishwavidyalaya, Bhopal, M.P. India in JUNE 2014. My Undergraduate emphasis was in Mechanical Engineering. I worked on my B.E. Final year project "Treadle Pump". After my graduation, I completed my Post graduation degree (M. Tech.) at IIT INDORE, Discipline of Mechanical Engineering with specialization in PRODUCTION and INDUSTRIAL ENGINEERING in July 2016. I worked on my M.Tech. Final year project "Improving Machinability of Alloy Steel" which was funded by AVTECH Company Pithampur Indore M.P. I learned more from my work, than what I learned at college. I learned to work against time, visualize things and apply concepts in real time projects. After almost a year at work, I am much more molded and matured with respect to my professional life.

My Career Goals:

I would like to be a Mechanical Engineering Professional and want to work extensively on Mechanical Engineering and Manufacturing Science. In five years, I hope to gain lots of experience and possibly more back to academics for my PhD in the same.

My Purpose of PhD Study:

I have always believed post graduate study exposes to the different facets of the profession. To acquire an in-depth knowledge in a chosen field, PhD study is a necessity. I would like to pursue my PhD degree and learn state-of-art technology to excel in the technology wave of next millennium.

My Field of Interest:

I am focused in achieving specialty in the field of Mechanical Engineering. Example: Heat treatment, hardness of material, EDX, XRD, SEM, morphology of specific material, study of microstructure, material science, micro & precision engineering, material characterization techniques, technology of surface coating, tribology. I have basic knowledge of Software like MATLAB, MINTAB, CATIA, ORIGIN PRO. and AUTO CAD.

Why You're University?

Since graduate study is an important step in my professional life, I don't want to make compromise on the quality of my education. When it comes to quality education, your University is one of the few places I can think of. I also view you're your University as an ideal place where I would get a chance to work on real time industrial projects.

Conclusion:

I am confident that I have the preparation and potential to prove an asset to your PhD program, both as PhD student and as a teaching assistant duty with research.

I look forward to an intellectually inspiring and fruitful association with your University.

Thanking you
